Language, Leadership, and Cabrini High School's Global Mission

Cabrini High School continues to live out Mother Cabrini's powerful words, "The world is too small for me. I want to bring the love of the Sacred Heart of Jesus to all people," by forming students who can truly engage across cultures, and language is at the heart of that mission.

This year's foreign language awards reflect not only academic excellence, but the development of real-world skills that allow students to communicate, connect, and lead in a global community. In one of the highest honors of Cabrini's foreign language department, Junior Jordin

McFarland earned first place in her French Oral Interview at the Southeastern Louisiana University Foreign Language Festival and received the prestigious Codofil Scholarship, a fully-funded opportunity to study in Brussels, Belgium this summer, and a true representation of the very spirit of Cabrini's international mission in action.

Cabrini students delivered an outstanding performance at the Southeastern Foreign Language Festival as a whole, dominating the competition and earning top placements across multiple categories in both French and Spanish. These accomplishments are more than awards; they represent students gaining the confidence and cultural fluency to engage meaningfully with the wider world.

A Loud, Happy Celebration!

The Shrine chapel was truly alive with the sound of music!

Tuba, trumpets, drums, clarinets, and mountains of flowers accompanied the faithful in a celebration in honor of St. Michael the Archangel at St. Frances Cabrini Shrine in New York on the morning of May 8. The procession and Mass were organized by a group of men who attend the Shrine's regular Spanish Mass.

The music began in the park down the street, prompting curious neighbors to emerge from their buildings, and children to race to the windows of the adjacent school.

Festival attendees filled the outdoor spaces at the Shrine.

The festive Mass was followed by a feast on the Shrine's lawn of homemade tamales, pozole, and other Mexican specialties.

Neighbors Who Sing!

Last fall, the Washington Heights Community Choir began to rehearse at St. Frances Cabrini Shrine. This non-audition choir of 80 locals brings joy, and a true neighborhood feel to the chapel. As we've gotten to know them, we've discovered new areas of common interest and a new pool of volunteers. The Washington Heights Community Choir in concert at the NY Shrine.

The choir's repertoire ranges from sacred music to art songs to folksongs. They present four free concerts each year. Pictured here is their spring concert held on Tuesday, May 12.

SHOWTIME!

On May 13th, excitement filled the air at Cabrini Immigrant Services-Dobbs Ferry (CIS-DF) as students in the Making Movies! Sharing Stories! Program prepared for their much-anticipated “Movie Premiere.” Throughout the year, our young filmmakers wrote stories, illustrated them, and then filmed their movies. In addition to producing and editing the films, the students also added sound effects. This year, the students designed their own logo for their ‘movie production company.’

A proud filmmaker with her mentor, Anne Marie Santoro.

Under the guidance of their teacher, Anne Marie Santoro, the students proudly presented two of their movies to an audience of classmates, parents, grandparents and siblings. Before each movie, the students welcomed everyone, thanked them for attending the premiere and then introduced their film. Following the presentation, the students fielded questions from the audience. The parents and grandparents were beaming with pride.

Clearly, there is a great deal of pride in this family for this budding filmmaker!

At the conclusion of the program, Ms. Santoro presented each student with a certificate in recognition of their achievements. The students were eager to display their certificates at home. In gratitude for all that Ms. Santoro has done throughout the year, the students presented her with a beautiful bouquet of flowers along with heartfelt words of thanks for her dedication and encouragement throughout the year.

The students had a wonderful time enjoying some refreshments following their premiere. Although relieved that they had done a superb job, the excitement lingered. The students are already looking ahead to a special three-week summer program being held in July. ~ submitted by Lorraine Campanelli, Director, CIS-DF

Today is Ascension Thursday

Ascension Thursday commemorates the Christian belief in the Ascension of Jesus into heaven. According to the New Testament, this event occurred 40 days after Easter Sunday, serving as the final act of the Paschal Mystery and the conclusion of Jesus's post-resurrection appearances on Earth.

Before ascending into heaven, Jesus gave his disciples the “Great Commission” instructing them to go out to all the nations and preach the Gospel. Ascension Thursday marks the transition period between the Resurrection and Pentecost, as Jesus promised to send the Holy Spirit to guide the Church.
